

Blame It On Thermal Turnover

Office of Sidney Waterworks District has been besieged with calls from irate consumers complaining about the taste of the water during the past few days.

But there is a very simple explanation, said a spokesman. Thermal turnover.

Consumption in the district is now higher than it has ever been before and local water supplies are being augmented from the Elk Lake water system.

Now, Elk Lake has a habit of turning its water over twice a year, in the spring and fall, as the temperature of the lake changes. This stirs up sediment on the bottom of the lake resulting in an unpleasant odor and taste. It takes from one to three weeks for this sediment to settle back down where it belongs. This is termed thermal turnover.

But the water is perfectly safe.

The water in the Sidney system was tested last week and found pure at all sources by public health officials, said the district's spokesman. The water in Sidney for the last month has been a mixture of Elk Lake water and local springs.

Local Service Station Sold

Long established Sidney service station has changed hands. Frank Hunt, who has operated Sidney Shell Service for the past nine years, has sold the business to Joe Arsenault of Royal Oak. The latter, a thoroughly experienced garage man, is already operating his new business.

Mr. Arsenault has resided on the Peninsula for many years. He was married here in 1934.

Mr. Hunt, who first came to Sidney in 1926, has operated different service stations for more than 30 years. He has no immediate plans for the future.

142 SIGN PETITION

Asphalt Plant Bid Withdrawn In Face Of Heavy Opposition

Application to establish an asphalt mixing plant on Central Saanich Road just north of the Saanich boundary was withdrawn on Tuesday evening after a lengthy petition signed by 142 residents was read to Central Saanich council.

Petitioners listed nine objections to the proposed plant, but only two of these were deemed pertinent by Reeve R. Gordon Lee. Objections were based on land devaluation, damage by smoke and dust to extensive berry crops in the area and use of trucks on local, narrow roads.

Application was made by Pioneer Paving Co. which is seeking to move its present plant at Langford to a more convenient location. Ken Thomson, of Brentwood Bay, president of the firm, presented a letter withdrawing the application after the petition was read to council.

"We have given up the idea of going in there and will remain at our present site for the time being," he said.

Several members of council were critical of the petition. Councillor R. M. Lamont noted that it was signed by many people not living in the vicinity of the proposed site.

"It is a powerful petition," said Councillor P. F. Benn. "I wonder if those that have signed it know the proposals?"

"Many people are prone to signing petitions," commented the reeve.

"I talked to some of the people in the area that have signed this petition," said Coun. Lamont, "and they didn't have any idea what it was all about, but they signed anyway."

"I think they fear the destruction of the aesthetic value of the area," Reeve Lee said.

DISTINGUISHED POLO PLAYER GUEST HERE THIS SUNDAY

Internationally-known polo player and safari hunter, Harry Hicks, of San Francisco, will be guest captain at the Vancouver Island Polo and Riding Club this Sunday in competition for the George Calvert Memorial cup.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are flying up from California for the game. The trophy is in memory of George Calvert, English industrialist and polo enthusiast who passed away last December, shortly after visiting this area.

Club president, Dr. W. V. Powell, said Mr. Calvert was planning to move to Vancouver Island and was making arrangements to move at the time of his death. He was 71 years of age and had been playing polo for 40 years, said Dr. Powell.

Mrs. Calvert is planning to come out from England to present the memorial cup to the winning team next year.

Game will be played on the club's field off Puckle Road in Central Saanich.

Of this total, 23 vessels were Canadian with 85 passengers and 63 were foreign with 209 passengers.

Automobile traffic through Sidney from Anacortes doubled in May over the previous month. All told, 3,536 passengers arrived here by ferry with 937 cars. Foreigners accounted for 3,243 of this total.

Outward-bound passengers numbered 3,139, only 334 of whom were Canadian. They left in a total of 754 automobiles.

MANDARTE ISLAND IS FOR THE BIRDS, SAYS WATCHER

Mandarte Island is for the birds. So much is the island devoted to birds that it is more commonly identified as Gull Island.

Last week two researchers from the Jesuit University of St. Louis, in Missouri, devoted all hours of daylight and a few beyond, to the recording of birds' calls on tape.

Rev. James Mulligan celebrated mass at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Sidney on Sunday morning. It was his first move away from the birds for a week.

Fr. Mulligan is a biologist at the university and has specialized in communications between animals. While studying for his doctorate he recorded bird calls in California, selecting the song sparrow for the purpose.

Jaycees Do Good Deed —For Scouts

Recently-formed Sidney Jaycees are doing their first good deed in this community this week—for the Boy Scouts.

Members of the Sidney Junior Chamber of Commerce are painting the Scout and Guide Hall on Bevin Ave., free of charge.

The Jaycees are supplying the labor putting on paint donated by paint companies of the area. They painted the white trim on Sunday and will finish the building with green paint later this week.

EAGLES SEEN AT SIDNEY

Two great eagles have been menacing gulls in the Sidney area. A raptor, C. W. Alger, of White Birch Road reports that at the weekend he heard the gulls calling as two massive eagles flew over at a height of 1,000 feet.

The eagle has been reported their alarm call on several occasions, reports Mr. Alger, but he was unable to see the eagles.

Gulls have a special call to warn of the advent of eagles or other birds likely to prey on their kind.

Two Sailings Daily For Anacortes

Increased sailings between Sidney and Anacortes for the summer months will commence this Friday, June 11.

The M/V Evergreen State, of Washington State Ferries, will leave Sidney for the American port twice daily at 11:35 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. The vessel has a capacity of 100 cars and 1,000 passengers.

The new schedule will be in effect from this Friday to Tuesday, September 7.

Successful

F. S. B. HEWARD

Sole candidate for the vacancy on Sidney village council, F. S. B. Heward was elected on Monday with no election. When nominations closed at mid-day Mr. Heward was the only nominee. He was accordingly declared elected by the returning officer, A. W. Sharp.

Mr. Heward is a trustee of Sidney Waterworks District and serves on the board of North Saanich Fire District. It was his second attempt for municipal office. Mr. Heward was unsuccessful in the December election.

A retired engineer, the new commissioner-elect brings considerable experience to his new office. He will serve until December, when his seat will be up for election again.

Too Many Organizations In Most Areas, Says Speaker

Drive To B.C.

Miss Donna McAdam, Fairport, N.Y., and Miss Virginia Vengiles, of Rochester, N.Y., have arrived for a visit with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph McAdam, Bann Bay Beach Motel, Lochside Drive.

The girls motored via the Trans-Canada Highway and had an enjoyable trip. They report having seen many black and brown bears, moose and deer. They ran into blizzards west of Winnipeg but were not inconvenienced or tied up by them.

The visitors were most impressed by the "appeared only too ready to assist" drivers stranded along the highway.

Wet Summer Or Dry? ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Voters To Answer Question

Wet summer in North Saanich or a dry summer? The voters of North Saanich will settle the question for themselves on June 18, when four questions will be asked at the polls.

Voters will be invited to approve or reject beer parlors, dining-room licenses, dining lounges or cocktail bars.

Returning officer is Lewis Harvey, of Lands End Road.

Polls will be opened in St. John's church hall, Legion Hall, and the Experimental Farm.

Affected polling divisions are Nos. 41, 45, 47 and 48. That part of any of the divisions which lies in Sidney village will be excluded from the vote.

Reader Is Opposed To Dancing

Juvenile dancing came in for a sharp rebuke this week from a Sidney parent who attended Sidney school's spring festival on Friday evening.

Critic expressed sharp disapproval of the "sock hop" when young students were invited to dance in a classroom. Spectacle of 12- and 13-year-old girls "thrusting out their bottoms and bosomless chests in weird jerking movements" were watched avidly "by unsmiling young boys who formed a circle."

The writer suggested that the affair had the earmarks of an ancient fertility rite or a slave market.

"Is it necessary to encourage young children in this direction so soon?" she enquired. "Or could we not wait until they reach high school?"

Deputy Clerk Joins Sidney Office Staff

Staff in the Sidney village office was augmented on June 1 when Glenn Fell, aged 38, assumed duties as deputy clerk and treasurer.

Mr. Fell was formerly clerk, treasurer and collector at Squamish for several years. Prior to this he had experience at Summerland and Penticton in the Okanagan.

Mr. Fell's wife, Eileen, and two boys, Ronald, eight, and Douglas, four, are still living at Squamish but will come to reside in Sidney in July.

Senior Matriculation Is Popular At Claremont

Senior matriculation has become well established in the four years it has been offered at Claremont Senior secondary school and students proceeding to the second year at university are meeting with success.

Dean S. F. N. S. Chant stated in the Royal Commission report that there was no noticeable difference in the performance of students entering second year from senior matriculation and from the first year of university.

Grade 13 program offers several advantages to students of Saanich School District who choose this means of completing their standing in first year university courses, an official of the school district told The Review this week.

Claremont has modern, well-equipped laboratories and a qualified, experienced staff. Students work is carefully supervised and an adequate library provides resource material.

The fee structure established by the trustees of Saanich district is an added inducement. A $200 tuition fee is charged for a full program of five courses, with an additional $5 charge for each laboratory course taken. Text books are rented for a nominal $5 charge per year.

The average student pays $210 for his academic year.

Added to this is the policy set by the school board last year to encourage scholarship, by which fees are refunded to students with high standing on the Grade 13 departmental examinations.

A student who earns an average in excess of 80 per cent is refunded all his fees, while an average between 70 per cent and 80 per cent is rewarded with a refund of half the fee paid.

Attendance from within the school district has increased steadily, with over 40 anticipated for September.

Air Force Veterans Meet In City After 24 Years

Days when military uniforms were commonplace on Sidney's streets were recalled on Saturday evening when former Royal Air Force personnel from Patricia Bay Airport assembled for their second annual reunion.

Dinner and dancing were enjoyed by about 30 veterans at the Pacific Club in Victoria. Former airmen came from all parts of the province and letters were received from others across Canada offering good wishes.

Chairman was David Huggins and David Jones was secretary of the committee making preparations.

Next year will mark the 25th anniversary of the opening of the Royal Air Force station at Patricia Bay with No. 32 Operational Training Unit. A special commemorative gathering is planned with Mr. Jones in charge of arrangements.

Driver Still Refuses To Pay Fine After Month

The processes of law are slow, it seems.

John M. Burwood, of 1089 Marchants Road, Brentwood, has heard nothing since he refused to pay a $5 fine in Sidney Magistrate's court on May 15.

He was convicted of failing to stop at a stop sign at Canara Road and McTavish Road the previous Thursday evening. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and contends that he did in fact stop. He also avers that two R.C.M.P. constables gave conflicting evidence in court regarding the direction taken by his car and the sign he was alleged not to have observed.

He refused to pay the fine levied by Magistrate D. G. Ashby and wrote a letter protesting a gross injustice to Attorney-General Robert Bonner with a copy to the R.C.M.P. commandant in Victoria.

He has not yet received a reply. The time limit for payment of the fine expired on May 30 but he has received no notification from police at Sidney.

CENTRAL SAANICH

WIT'S END by WINDSOR

I suspect that the prairie winter has done more for the development of British Columbia than any other factor that you could name. There seems to come a time in the lives of most prairie people when they feel that they have to get away from the blizzards, the biting cold, and those long months of snow and ice, to the green and comparatively balmy climate of the west coast, and in their coming here have brought much enthusiasm, talent, and culture to add to the life of this province.

One of the latest to heed our siren song and come to settle in Saanich is Annora Brown, well known in her native Alberta as one of its most prominent artists. For more than 40 years now, this blue-eyed, silvery-haired lady has devoted her life to depicting on paper and canvas the scenes and people and flowers of the southern part of that province.

PIONEER STOCK

Miss Brown comes of pioneer stock. Her father, London born, came west with the North West Mounted Police in 1885, to be stationed at newly-built Fort Macleod, while her mother, who hailed from Ontario, first reached the frontier country in 1890. Those were the days when the whites were still a minority, the Indians still a proud, untamed people, and the memory of the defeat and massacre of American General Custer and his force by the Sioux, was still vivid in the minds of many.

Miss Brown, as a very small girl in Fort Macleod, remembers that when the sound of drums from the Indian encampments came rolling across the plains, there would be a certain feeling of apprehension among the settlers, especially the more outlying ones wondering what this might presage.

ALSO A WRITER

Interested in drawing and painting from her earliest childhood, Annora Brown went east as a young woman to study, in Toronto, and later became associated with the

A GOOD OMEN

THE heat and the pother of furious altercation have disappeared from the Sidney village scene and the stage is strangely silent.

Off-stage is the new commissioner-elect, Mr. F. S. B. Heward, who is accepting the warm congratulations of many on his successful bid for office.

There is, however, an anticlimax to it all.

The vacancy on the village council came about with the resignation of Mr. Joseph Mitchell. Amid as hot a scene of dispute as has graced the village administration during a heated year Mr. Mitchell left the stage of public affairs in protest against his colleagues' policies.

Mr. Heward entered the municipal scene with a placatory smile and a firm grasp of the situation. He made no bones about his views and published them in a statement in a recent copy of The Review.

And that was that.

There was no fight, no dispute. Mr. Heward has been welcomed into the circle of municipal administrators without a contest. The community of Sidney has supported Mr. Heward and his plea for harmony.

It is a good omen.

OUR FEATHERED ENEMIES

ON the Saanich Peninsula spring is rapidly turning into summer. The strawberry crop is now being harvested and enjoyed thoroughly. On the trees ample crops of cherries and other fruits are forming and will soon be ripening.

Will we be able to enjoy the fruits of these trees in July? Last year flocks of crows and starlings ate the luscious fruit ravenously. Scarcely a cherry was left for those interested gardeners who had cared for the trees during the winter by spraying them and giving them other attention.

If our memory serves us right, one commissioner of the village of Sidney undertook last season to organize a shoot which would rid the municipality of the threat of crows. So far as we are aware not one shot has yet been fired in the battle against the marauders. It may be that other and more humane means have been adopted to conquer the plague. We sincerely hope so.

Meanwhile, the crows have multiplied steadily. Some ornithologists are convinced that a veritable population explosion has taken place. If some steps are not taken urgently, the entire cherry crop will be lost again this year.

Cherries may not be fully ripe for another couple of weeks. But some fast action is needed right now to protect the valuable crop.

A BLOW FOR LITERACY

WITHIN the next week or more residents of Sidney and North Saanich will be invited to support a petition for library service here. In Sidney the plea will be sounded for the second time. In North Saanich the campaign is the first to be launched.

Initially a lending library has been operated by Cornish's for many years. In both areas the open-shelf division of the provincial library has been enjoyed. There has been no branch library here since the community was established a century ago.

Two groups have paid close interest to the establishment of a library here.

Newly-formed library committee of Sidney and North Saanich is headed by Mr. Richard Thuillier. This committee has made all preparations for the plebiscite. It came into being as a result of the closure of the open-shelf library to the public. This service can only be enjoyed by mail and personal selection is no longer permitted.

Coincidentally with the establishment of the library committee the joint centennial committee of Sidney and North Saanich selected a library building as an appropriate monument to Canada's 100th birthday.

Such a building could well provide accommodation for the nucleus of a local museum. Publicly-sponsored and maintained, an exhibition of early settlement here could develop over the years into a worthy and interesting record of the past.

Within the next several months the public will be invited to support the library plan. It is to be hoped that the literate people of the community will vote for the future literacy here which could not survive without a library.

Maltwood Museum

OPENED AT ROYAL OAK

Mediaeval England has found its way into Saanich. On Monday morning Judge J. B. Clearhugh, chancellor, formally opened the new Victoria University museum, Maltwood House, at Royal Oak.

The building already familiar to thousands as the "Thatch" has been made public.

A low, timbered ceiling covers the hall when the visitor enters the building. From this hall he gains access to the vast living room, with its vaulted ceiling and fireplace at each end.

Main exhibition area is the living room. Large refectory table of the style common in England 300 years ago is centred in the room, with a preponderance of oak throughout the furnishings.

Examples of the work of Masterly Maltwood include the alabaster figure of the Holy Grail at the head of the room with the Egyptian mythological figures near the entrance. Other examples are placed about the room and elsewhere.

The emphasis on English oak is relieved by the Chinese art in various forms as well as oriental prayer mats and other exhibits.

The hallway display is placed before the chimney-piece.

Hall leading off to the smaller refectory of the house is occupied by a large piece of the 17th century. Visitors were fearful that the bed was small, but the mediaeval man was, reportedly, of shorter stature than his 19th century descendant.

In the same room are various Indian exhibits. These are from India and not North America.

Attraction of the upper floor, or por-tried into service. With the promise of 90 cents per hour, how could they refuse? My principal, D. E. Breckenridge became a first class carpenter, while Norman West started out as a carpenter and ended up as a plumber.

REALLY PROUD

When I was officially opened in September, 1943, I was really proud of my five new classrooms, home economics, industrial arts and a big new gymnasium, where the grade 12's are now sitting. My library was a few shelves at the back of Room 1.

Later a small room was built under the old stage where the equipment room is now.

Of course all my furniture was old and there was no chairs for the gymnasium. However, 200 chairs were soon made in the industrial arts department, under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. with its first president, Mrs. W. S. Harrison. It might be interesting to note that I was built for $43,000, just slightly more than the cost of my new lab and office extension.

GROWING PAINS

It wasn't long before I developed growing pains. At first my basement lunch room, where the present change rooms are located, was partitioned off into a commercial room and a classroom. With the gym classes upstairs, typewriters next door and a noisy furnace nearby I don't know how these basement classes could concentrate.

The old Pat Bay school having served the D.O.T. and Brentwood College, was established as an annex to accommodate the junior classes. Miss T. Miller was in command along with various other teachers such as Mr. Roper, J. W. Lott, J. S. Clark and T. G. Bunch. Great was the confusion and inconvenience, but, at least I was housing my rapidly increasing population with little additional cost to my sponsors.

WALLS PUSHED OUT

My industrial arts classes took care of their overcrowding by building themselves a room in the basement and a large shop outside. In 1956 when there was no more available space my walls were pushed out in all directions, in fact my new south wing nearly ended up on the highway.

Even with all my new appendages and the regrettable loss of my grade 11's and grade 12's next year, I still won't have enough accommodation to keep up with the increasing population and the new courses. However, it is not of my size or shape that I am proud, but the product I produce.

HONOR ROLLS

In my main hallway you will find the Honor Rolls of many of my ex-students who fought and died for me and my country. You will also find many long lists of names of honor students, scholarship and award winners. Many of my students have made or broken records both in education and in the field of sports. My custodian, J. Nunn, has also made a record by giving me his faithful service for 28 consecutive years. Also the family name of Nunn has been on some of my registers for the last 52 years.

GOOD ACCOUNT

On my mezzanine landing there are photographs of some 400 graduates. All of these have given a good account of themselves. Many are doctors, dentists, lawyers, technicians, teachers, nurses, laboratory technicians, clerical workers, store managers, bankers, and mothers. It is of these that I feel justly proud.

I am sure that with the right opportunity all these fine young people on my stage tonight will, in a few years make me equally as proud.

On behalf of the staff may I wish you, the 1965 graduating class, success in the forthcoming examinations and the best of luck in the future.

What is the church doing to cope with immorality in society? A recent news item out of Toronto and printed in a local daily reports an United Church official as stating:

"Extra-marital sexual relations are tolerated if they are motivated by love." Further in the article they say: "Homosexuality, long regarded as one of the gravest evils for similar reasons should not be condemned."

The article concludes that "the church must be more flexible and change its rules and regulations to change in society."

Can any church with such a message instill high moral practices into its people and have any effect against sin in its community? What is the church to do? Does it find its authority in science and its pleasure in appeasing society or does it believe, obey and seek to please its God?

The Bible, God's message to all the world for all time, from a God who cannot change states: "Thou shalt not commit adultery."—Exodus 20:14. Also, adultery, along with homosexuality is condemned in 1 Cor. 6:9. This verse reveals that those who practice such things shall not find heaven as their final abode. II Peter, chapter 2 states that the time will come when false prophets will teach untruth thus denying God and so bring destruction upon themselves.

A church that contradicts the Bible and sets its standards by society cannot do anything to elevate those it is supposed to serve. This is why immorality is on the increase in our society.

Each of us to examine his own church and its teachings regarding its beliefs and practices and where sin abounds, raise our voices against sin and for our God.

Saanich Social Credit W.A. will hold the annual "Blossom Tea" on Monday, June 14, 7.30 p.m. to 9.30 p.m. at the home of Miss M. Palmer, 255 Maplewood Road.

Mrs. R. Williams will open the tea and there will be a display of home cooking and sewing.

Maritime Museum in City

Victoria's maritime museum opened its doors this week to display to the public the accumulation of years of maritime activity off the coast of Vancouver Island.

The museum is a goldmine of historical records relating to the gallery is in no small degree due to the staircase. Narrow and winding, it is supported by the heavy, ugly balusters common in the English house of the period imitated.

A second four-poster bed is to be seen in the gallery with other exhibits.

The house and its contents have been donated to the university by John Maltwood. The owner has also donated a sum of money for the maintenance of the property.

Standing in about three acres, the building is one of the eye-catching structures of the lower island.

The chancellor spoke appreciatively of the gift to the university and welcomed its contribution to the island scholarship.

Curators of the museum are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Austin. They have already spent many hours identifying and displaying the collection.

Majority of the original exhibits were collected by Mrs. Maltwood. Extensive library of valuable books is housed in the main hall.

Exhibition on Monday was a reproduction of the ship's log, a leather-bound volume on parchment, containing in script with many of the exhibits.

On Tuesday morning mediaeval England was introduced to the gym and the rest of the parts of the house.

TO 1965 GRADUATES

History Of Local High School Presented As Autobiography

History of North Saanich secondary school was presented in an unusual manner, in the form of an autobiography, at the recent recognition ceremonies. It was prepared by Norman E. West, who is the only original staff member still teaching at the school.

Mr. West joined the staff of the school when it was first opened in 1939, along with D. E. Breckenridge, the school's principal from 1939 to 1964.

Mr. West's close association with the local senior school since its inception provides a good background for the autobiography which is printed in full here.

My roots started to grow as a one-room school where the Legion Hall now stands.

In 1918 I expanded into two rooms on the airport where 18 years later I burned to the ground.

The next year I rose again with three classrooms, a shop, home economics room and a small gymnasium. I was very proud of my new furnace and inside plumbing. My students were very excited when the first airplane arrived, even though it was housed in my neighbor's barn across the road. The novelty soon wore off as many more planes arrived along with the hangers and ammunition store-houses. The members of my board, impelled by the disaster at Pearl Harbor, felt it was time I got out of there, so, on December 9, 1941, I was closed.

SHIFT SYSTEM

From January 1, 1942 until September, 1943, my students went on a shift system with the Sidney elementary school. Here home economics was taught in the basement around the furnace. Industrial arts was carried on in a carpenter's workshop. The Scout hall and two church halls were used. Bells, buzzers and whistles started at 8 a.m. and continued until 5 p.m. Small students sat in big desks and big students sat in small desks—but, the show went on.

The foundations of the original part of my present structure rose in the summer of 1942. Materials were scarce and carpenters scarce, so, some of my teachers were pressed into service. With the promise of 90 cents per hour, how could they refuse? My principal, D. E. Breckenridge became a first class carpenter, while Norman West started out as a carpenter and ended up as a plumber.

HONOR ROLLS

In my main hallway you will find the Honor Rolls of many of my ex-students who fought and died for me and my country. You will also find many long lists of names of honor students, scholarship and award winners. Many of my students have made or broken records both in education and in the field of sports. My custodian, J. Nunn, has also made a record by giving me his faithful service for 28 consecutive years. Also the family name of Nunn has been on some of my registers for the last 52 years.

GOOD ACCOUNT

On my mezzanine landing there are photographs of some 400 graduates. All of these have given a good account of themselves. Many are doctors, dentists, lawyers, technicians, teachers, nurses, laboratory technicians, clerical workers, store managers, bankers, and mothers. It is of these that I feel justly proud.

I am sure that with the right opportunity all these fine young people on my stage tonight will, in a few years make me equally as proud.

On behalf of the staff may I wish you, the 1965 graduating class, success in the forthcoming examinations and the best of luck in the future.

Even with all my new appendages and the regrettable loss of my grade 11's and grade 12's next year, I still won't have enough accommodation to keep up with the increasing population and the new courses. However, it is not of my size or shape that I am proud, but the product I produce.

What is the church doing to cope with immorality in society? A recent news item out of Toronto and printed in a local daily reports an United Church official as stating:

"Extra-marital sexual relations are tolerated if they are motivated by love." Further in the article they say: "Homosexuality, long regarded as one of the gravest evils for similar reasons should not be condemned."

The article concludes that "the church must be more flexible and change its rules and regulations to change in society."

Can any church with such a message instill high moral practices into its people and have any effect against sin in its community? What is the church to do? Does it find its authority in science and its pleasure in appeasing society or does it believe, obey and seek to please its God?

The Bible, God's message to all the world for all time, from a God who cannot change states: "Thou shalt not commit adultery."—Exodus 20:14. Also, adultery, along with homosexuality is condemned in 1 Cor. 6:9. This verse reveals that those who practice such things shall not find heaven as their final abode. II Peter, chapter 2 states that the time will come when false prophets will teach untruth thus denying God and so bring destruction upon themselves.

A church that contradicts the Bible and sets its standards by society cannot do anything to elevate those it is supposed to serve. This is why immorality is on the increase in our society.

Each of us to examine his own church and its teachings regarding its beliefs and practices and where sin abounds, raise our voices against sin and for our God.

TEA AND SALE FOR ASSISTANCE TO SOCIAL CREDIT

Saanich Social Credit W.A. will hold the annual "Blossom Tea" on Monday, June 14, 7.30 p.m. to 9.30 p.m. at the home of Miss M. Palmer, 255 Maplewood Road.

Mrs. R. Williams will open the tea and there will be a display of home cooking and sewing.

Maritime Museum in City

Victoria's maritime museum opened its doors this week to display to the public the accumulation of years of maritime activity off the coast of Vancouver Island.

The museum is a goldmine of historical records relating to the gallery is in no small degree due to the staircase. Narrow and winding, it is supported by the heavy, ugly balusters common in the English house of the period imitated.

A second four-poster bed is to be seen in the gallery with other exhibits.

The house and its contents have been donated to the university by John Maltwood. The owner has also donated a sum of money for the maintenance of the property.

Standing in about three acres, the building is one of the eye-catching structures of the lower island.

The chancellor spoke appreciatively of the gift to the university and welcomed its contribution to the island scholarship.

Curators of the museum are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Austin. They have already spent many hours identifying and displaying the collection.

Majority of the original exhibits were collected by Mrs. Maltwood. Extensive library of valuable books is housed in the main hall.

Exhibition on Monday was a reproduction of the ship's log, a leather-bound volume on parchment, containing in script with many of the exhibits.

On Tuesday morning mediaeval England was introduced to the gym and the rest of the parts of the house.

TRIP DESCRIBED

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING AT CRANBROOK

Review correspondent on Galiano Island, Mrs. M. E. Backlund, and her mother, Mrs. Bernard Stallybrass, recently attended the B.C. Historical Society conference at Cranbrook. D. A. New, of Galiano, is president of the society, and attended the conference accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Backlund describes here the trip to Cranbrook and the conference.

Mother and I travelled by Greyhound bus from Vancouver, and we found the drivers were indeed kind and courteous. It was our first sighting of the giant slide near Hope, where one feels very small and humble in the sight of this disaster. We saw 16 mule deer in Manning Park, where there was fresh snow, sprinkled like icing sugar over the tired old snow of last year.

CANADIAN ROCKIES

We arrived in Cranbrook at 3.25 a.m. on Friday, and after a good sleep we got our first sight of the magnificent Canadian Rockies. We can easily understand how people are inspired to write songs about them, they are so breath-taking.

Friday evening we attended the beginning of the activities set out for us.

There was an interesting talk given by Dr. Willard Ireland, provincial archivist and librarian, on the early days in the Kootenays. Val Bassett, B.C. Hydro information officer from Castlegar, showed the new film, "Action on the Columbia".

On Saturday morning the business meeting got under way, with a talk given by Mr. New, on the early days in the Gulf Islands. It was noted that in 1865 Sir Peter John O'Reilly was in that district, and attending this conference, 100 years later, was his grandson, John O'Reilly, of Victoria.

FRONTIER LUNCHEON

At 1 p.m. the Cranbrook Chamber of Commerce and Interior Breweries sponsored a frontier luncheon at Brewery Creek, about three miles past Fort Steele on the Wild Horse Creek road. Following this, a tour of the gold fields, the Wild Horse cemetery, the trilobite beds and the Fort Steele townsite took place.

The guest speaker for the banquet in the evening was Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, chairman of B.C. Hydro. Theme of his speech was "The Power of the Columbia". He said that B.C. Hydro is very conscious of its responsibilities, and proud that it was chosen for the B.C. part in the huge development beginning now to take place. Mr. New thanked Dr. Keenleyside for his clear and comprehensive talk, also all of the

THE GULF ISLANDS

PENDER

F. Ware and John Murphy spent four days in Calgary last week. Mr. Ware, whose house was destroyed by fire some months ago, has decided to take up residence in a suite in Victoria, instead of rebuilding, and he may go to England later.

Mrs. Connie Swartz is back at Clakili, after attending the four-day meeting of the B.C. Historical Society in Cranbrook, and two days in Victoria.

Capt. and Mrs. T. L. Higgs and Capt. and Mrs. W. Y. Higgs were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spalding last week. The Higgs brothers grew up on Pender Island, and enjoyed visiting childhood haunts and seeing old friends.

Visitors at Little Splash staying with Sybil Conery are the Misses Jennifer Axtens, Jessie Mantle and Margaret Fletcher.

Miss Bailey and Miss Ladner are at their home, "Illahee".

people of Cranbrook, for their warm hospitality during the conference.

CEREMONIAL DRESS

We were then entertained by musical numbers given by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald, after which one of the highlights of the whole conference took place. This was the presenting of the ceremonial dress of the Kootenay and Shuswap Indian tribes. Not only the full ceremonial dress of five of the prominent members were given, but many rare items: the peace pipe of Chief Paul Ignacius Kimbasket, a necklace of elk teeth, another of deer hooves. The head-dresses made of eagle feathers were really magnificent.

On Sunday the conference shifted to the Windermere area, where a historical museum was opened at Invermere. On Sunday evening, I was interviewed by Cornelia Sawchuk, business manager for CKEK, the radio station there. Cornelia is well-known in the coast area. She spoke of the success of the conference, and hopes that many of the people from there will attend the 1966 conference, to be held at Galiano Island.

TRAFFIC JAM

The trip home was quiet, until we got to Penticton, and from there on, we were caught up in a huge traffic jam, taking almost an hour to go a few miles up that steep hill just out of Hope. This was indeed a memorable trip; not soon to be forgotten by this coast gal, and about the nicest birthday gift from a dear mother anyone could hope ever to receive!

FOUR "EXPLORERS" RECEIVE PINS AT GANGES CEREMONY

Four members of Ganges United Church Explorers, Patsy Archer, Sharon Barber, Angela Bridgen and Wendy Mossop, in the presence of mothers and friends, received gold "E" pins on the occasion of graduation to Canadian Girls in Training at a special ceremony, recently, with C.G.I.T. members assisting. Mrs. C. W. Archer, C.G.I.T. leader and Margaret Reid, C.G.I.T. president, welcomed the graduates.

Rita Rogers, chief explorer, conducted the business. Roberta Coles welcomed the visitors. A vote of thanks was given by Terry Anderson to Mrs. Archer for acting as councillor to explorers at expeditions in April, and to Mrs. Scot Clarke for her instruction in flower arranging, and thanks to the United Church Women for a cash donation.

Treasurers' receipts from Audrey Scarff, C.G.I.T., and Patsy Archer, Explorers, were presented for mission work to Mrs. Irl Bradley, while Linda Anderson and Allison Foulis gave an outline of their mission study on Brazil and Trinidad.

Highest Explorer attendance award was won by Terry Anderson with Rita Rogers and Bernice Foulis tying for second place. Awards for best attendance at church and Sunday school were both won by Angela Bridgen, with Wendy Mossop in second place.

Ambulance Fees Reduced

At a recent meeting of the Salt Spring Island Lions Club Activities Society, which maintains and operates the local ambulance, it was decided to reduce the fees for ambulance service to its 294 members from $5 to $4 per year, family rate. It is noteworthy that, with costs of ambulance service being deplored by many other communities, this unique service offered to all residents of the Gulf Islands is available at such a low rate. Service is not only to Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital but patients are transported, following doctors' orders to Victoria, Nanaimo and Duncan.

The meeting further considered making available surplus funds for use of the Pioneer Village Society, should the need arise.

Former Pender Island Man Married At St. Mark's Church

Baskets of white lilacs and red peonies decorated St. Mark's Church, Saanich, on Saturday, May 32, when Olive Mary Veysey Illes became the bride of Robert Oliver Hamilton with Canon Robert Willis officiating.

Organist Mrs. E. Hewitt played O Perfect Love during the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. V. Lang, 941 McLeure St. and the late Mr. Lang, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.

GOVENLOCK-BRIDGEN

First Wedding For 20 Years At Burgoyne United Church

First wedding to be held in the Burgoyne United Church, Salt Spring Island, for over 20 years, took place on Saturday, June 5, when Elizabeth-Anne Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bridgen was united in marriage to Stuart William Govenlock, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Govenlock of Sooke, B.C.

The old church, built 78 years ago in 1887, was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and this made an appropriate setting for the pretty young bride as she entered the church on the arm of her father.

Rev. J. B. G. Bompas, of Victoria, a former minister on Salt Spring Island, officiated.

The bride, given away by her father, was lovely in all-white ballerina-length dress of nylon sheer over silk, three-quarter length sleeves and long white gloves. On her head she wore a veil of fingertip length and she carried a cascade bouquet of calla lilies, pink peonies, lily of the valley and maidenhair fern.

The maid of honor was her sister, Rosemary, and bridesmaid was Jayney French, both wearing identical pale green nylon sheer over silk, with full ballerina length skirts, highlighted by an embroidered lace panel from neck to hemline. They carried cascading bouquets of blue and yellow Dutch iris, lilies of the valley and ferns, and wore matching white accessories.

Best man was Wayne Underwood, of Sooke. The usher was Jim Hamilton, of Salt Spring Island.

The bride's mother looked smart in a rose pink crease resistant Enka linen, and she wore matching accessories, in pink and carried a bouquet of red rosebuds and lily of the valley. The groom's mother was equally smart in all ivory white suit with matching accessories and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride. Proposing the toast to the bride was her uncle, David Thomas, of Cloverdale. This was replied to by the groom, who also proposed the toast to the bridesmaids.

Hamilton, formerly of Pender Island. The groom is also the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Washington Grimmer, pioneer residents of Pender Island.

Given in marriage by her brother, R. E. Lang, the bride wore a blue wool dressmaker suit styled with a rounded collar and highlighted with an aurora borealis brooch. Her hat was of toning blue straw and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Eva Swift, from North Vancouver, chose a two-piece yellow linen suit with white accessories. White carnations formed her shower bouquet.

James Wood was best man for his brother-in-law and ushers were Ronald Bannister and Charles Wilson.

The bride's mother, Mrs. A. V. Lang, dressed in blue with pink accessories, and the groom's sister, Mrs. James Wood, dressed in light blue lace two-piece dress with matching hat, helped to receive the guests at the Olde England Inn.

Arrangements of lily of the valley and silver candelabra flanked the three-tier wedding cake which centered the lace-covered bride's table at the reception.

Canon Willis proposed the toast to the bride and the best man proposed the toast to the bridesmaid.

Following a short honeymoon to Harrison Hot Springs, the couple will make their home at 56 Sims Ave.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. N. Amies, Mrs. O. Clague, Mr. and Mrs. P. Grimmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. N. Grimmer and Mr. and Mrs. D. Grimmer, all of Pender Island; Mr. and Mrs. H. England, of New Westminster and Mrs. M. Smith, of Vancouver.

Fire At Galiano Campsite

A fire believed started from a campfire destroyed about half an acre of bush at the Montague Harbor Marine Park on Galiano Island on Sunday afternoon.

The fire was in an area not yet fully developed and no campfires were destroyed.

The blaze was discovered at noon and was brought under control 2½ hours later by members of the Galiano Volunteer Fire Department working under Fire Chief Don Robson.

"It could have been pretty devastating but for the fast and efficient work of the firemen," said one observer.

the esteem in which Mrs. Shaw was held and stated that she had tried to lure Mrs. Shaw to Beaver Lake to teach, but her ties with Prospect Lake school had been too great to break.

Mrs. Shaw thanked those present for the luggage set they had given her, and said her association with Prospect Lake school had been a very happy period in her life. She said she had regarded the parents of her pupils as her friends, ever since coming to teach in the district she had found them friendly and co-operative and interested in school affairs. She said she appreciated the many people turning out to give her such a wonderful farewell.

Refreshments were served by the Prospect Lake Home-School Association and friends.

GUEST BOOK

Later, Mrs. Shaw met and talked with many parents, pupils and former pupils. A guest book containing the names of all those present was given to the guest of honor as a token of remembrance of the event.

New 42-Unit Apartment Block Completed On Waterfront Here

Blue Water Apartments Is New Addition To Sidney Facilities

—Overlooking Bazan Bay

Blue Water Apartments enjoys a beautiful view across the waters of Bazan Bay. Sidney's newest apartment block is one of the most attractive vantage points from which to enjoy the view. Bazan Bay and Blue Water Apartments deserve each other.

The new 42-unit building is the brain-child of Charles and May Turner, old hands at erecting attractive residential structures in Sidney.

Blue Water has everything. It is placed almost at the water's edge and it is backed by a green and pleasant stand of tall trees to rival the call of the sea.

The building has been nearly a year a-borning.

Located on Lochside Drive at its junction with Weiler Ave., the new building is a striking landmark to visitors arriving here aboard the Anacortes ferry. Its white facade and massive elevation identifies it for miles out to sea.

The popularity of the new block was evident before it was nearly completed. Workmen were still undertaking structural projects when the first tenants moved in. About half of the units were rented before the building was ready.

NOTABLE FEATURES

In a community which was almost devoid of apartment blocks a few years ago the new structure offers some notable features.

Car parking for tenants is in the basement. Facilities are provided on the court to the north of the building for visiting cars, but occupants may leave their cars beneath the building with every confidence. Passenger leaves his car and uses the elevator to come upstairs.

Halls are brightly carpeted in red, with plastered walls.

Apartments vary in style and size. Majority offer two bedrooms, while a number provide only one. Some have massive living rooms, while others are quite modest in size.

Basic style is constant. Each has living-room, dining room and kitchen.

In some instances the kitchen is completely closed off and in others it is separated from the rest of the reception area by means of a doorway.

HOT WATER

Heating is by hot water. Each apartment has its own stove and the occupant has only to bring and arrange his furniture.

Apartments are on three floors, with the roof sporting a solarium for those wishing to enjoy it.

The elevator is the first to be installed in rental apartments in the Sidney area. Carried on a piston, the elevator is hydraulic and the shaft supporting it goes deep into the ground. The hole for the shaft was drilled when the first foundations were being poured for the building.

Switching panel for the elevator is a complicated box in its own basement room. Mr. Turner has already thoroughly acquainted himself with its operation.

Top man in the versatility stakes is the author of the block. Foreman of the project and clerk of works, Charles Turner has also worked on half the jobs. When a hand was wanted in any part, his hand was there. The building is his baby and he has nurtured it to maturity with all the care and consideration he could muster.

Design of the building and the units is largely the work of Mr. Turner, while he and Mrs. Turner have stayed with it all along the construction line to watch their brain-child grow up. Even the railing around the carpark entrance has been the work of the untiring proprietor. It was welded on the job, already erected before it was made.

Car parking space in the basement has yet to be finally cleared, but the upper regions of the block have already taken on the dignity of use.

Novel to the community is the provision of a house telephone linking the suite with the front door.

Visitors to the new block have been warm in their praise of both interior and exterior. It is an asset to the community.—F.G.R.

THOUSANDS ELIGIBLE FOR PENSION

Total of 14,000 more British Columbians will be eligible for the $75 a month federal pension in January, 1966 as a result of a recent amendment to the Old Age Security Act, W. R. Bone, regional director, said last week.

The amendment provided that persons with residential qualifications, who will be 69 years of age by next January, will be eligible. The previous requirement was that the applicant must be 70 years of age.

The amended Act also provides that the qualifying age be reduced progressively until in January, 1970, persons of 65 years will be eligible.

Mr. Bone suggested that eligible persons apply at an early date. Application forms are available at all post offices. They should be mailed, accompanied by documentary proof of age to: Regional Director, Old Age Security, P.O. Box 1177, Victoria, B.C.

Pot-Luck Supper Staged By Church Women's Association

Bazan Bay unit of the United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Axel Ostrom, Patricia Bay Highway, on Wednesday, May 26, with five members present. Mrs. John Kennaird led the devotions and Mrs. Ostrom continued the study book on Trinidad.

A pot luck supper for all groups was planned. Mrs. Kennaird has purchased material for the fall bazaar sewing.

For the June meeting, which generally is in the form of a picnic, tentative plans were made for a dinner at The Chalet.

September meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Budd, East Saanich Road.

Students Celebrate Graduation (?)

Hopeful "graduates" of North Saanich secondary school celebrated the near-end of 12 years in school with a full week-end of activities.

"Graduation" ceremonies were optimistically held before final examinations last Thursday evening and on Friday the senior class held a dance at the school from 9-12:30. After the dance, the students and their dates journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson, Ardmore, where they were party guests of Miss Bonnie Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gordon rose bright and early Saturday to prepare breakfast for some 85 tired and hungry celebrants. On Saturday evening, the Carlton Club was the scene of another evening of fun for the students. This broke up at midnight, but the fun-seekers met again on Sunday for a beach party which brought all celebrations to an end.

However, the day of reckoning is approaching when the premature grads will write their last set of exams. The tests will determine which members of the senior North Saanich class will really graduate.

The welcome sign will go up at 1 p.m. and visitors will be welcomed until 8 p.m.

HE BUILT TO HIS OWN DESIGN

Man behind the Blue Water Apartments is Charles D. Turner. Veteran of the Second World War and a skilled sheet metal worker, Mr. Turner has been a familiar figure here for decades. Charlie Turner acquired the former Review building on Third St., after the Second World War and installed a second metal shop. Later he raised and revamped the old building.

After operating his sheet metal business for a number of years, he constructed a number of apartments on the second storey and rented the ground floor area.

At the same time he constructed two blocks to the north, on Third St. His latest venture is the largest block of all.

SHERLOCK IN THE POST OFFICE

S. R. Gibbs, secretary-treasurer of the Sidney Waterworks District, reports that there must be a modern Sherlock Holmes working at Sidney post office.

It seems that one day last week a letter was posted at the Sidney office bearing only a five-cent stamp. There was no mailing address or return address.

But someone in the post office noticed faint bars showing through the envelope. He or she remembered that Sidney Waterworks bills have

BRAZILIAN THEME FOR MISSION NIGHT

Brazilian atmosphere was created in the Shady Creek United Church Fellowship Hall at Saanichton recently when the Canadian Girls in Training presented a Mission Night.

All the girls were in Brazilian costume, and their leaders, Mrs. K. Sedgman and Mrs. Wm. Speare, assisted them in the program consisting of displays pertaining to the geography, customs, religion and missionary work in Brazil.

A film was also shown. The girls entertained with singing, and refreshments were served by Shady Creek U.C.W. featuring an arrangement depicting tropical fruit and Brazilian foods. Nova McLeod and a girl friend celebrated their birthdays with two cakes, one with Portuguese writing on it meaning "Wishing Everyone Well".

Members of the U.C.W. were present along with the Tyro boys and their leader, Mr. Sawyer, and some church members.

bars on them, so he/she pencilled on the envelope "Try Bx 41?".

It was tried, it was right, and the waterworks district was paid by an absent-minded consumer.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Recknagle have moved from Wilson Road to take up residence on Oakville St. Mrs. Recknagle is on the nursing staff at Rest Haven Hospital.

Bachelor of education degrees on the elementary program went to Thomas H. H. Boyd, 10215 Third St., Sidney; Franklin Byron, of Fulford Harbor; James Erskine Nimmo, of Saanichton, and Graham Rice, 6117 Old West Saanich Road.

Eight residents of this area were among 2,092 students, the largest spring graduating class in the University of B.C.'s history, who received their degrees on May 27 and 28.

Chancellor Phyllis G. Ross, C.B.E., presided at the two-day ceremony in UBC's War Memorial Gymnasium.

Two students each from Fulford Harbor, Ganges, Sidney and Saanichton were awarded degrees at the ceremonies.

From Fulford: Luth Hartwig, B.S.A. (Ontario Agricultural College), M.Sc., chemistry; and John Duncan, M.Sc., second class honors in Physics.

From Ganges: Malcolm Thomas Bond, B.S.A.; Alan Sydney Coombes, B.Sc., general course.

AT EXPERIMENTAL FARM

Painting In The Parks To Get Underway On June 28

Between 200 and 300 boys and girls in the Victoria and Sidney areas will soon have paint brushes in their hands as the children's summer art classes get underway.

The Federation of Canadian Artists is once again sponsoring the summer educational project called "Painting in the Parks" for children six to 16 years of age. Classes will be held at the park at the Saanich Experimental Farm and Beacon Hill Park in Victoria from June 28 to August 5.

Spokesman for F.C.A. said the aims of the classes are: to introduce the children to the satisfaction derived from painting as a hobby; to bring out the personal satisfaction gained from creating something truly their own; to develop an appreciation of the beauty around them and of painting in general, and to give youngsters a worthwhile activity to help fill the long summer hours.

For an enrolment fee of $10, each child receives a drawing board, a box of paints, a brush, crayons, charcoal, India ink and all the paper he or she can use.

Classes are held four days a week and each child comes for two of those days in the morning or the afternoon, for two hours each day. During the six-week course, each child receives 12 two-hour lessons.

Subject matter used by teachers ranges from highly imaginative to those of simple reality, from fairy tales to a passing parade.

An advanced class will be held for students 13 years and over for those with definite ability and advanced instruction in technique is employed. Students may work in other media such as oils and pastels.

During the fifth week of classes, children's work is chosen to be sent to Vancouver to the "Painting in the Parks" competition for out-of-town awards, which means the districts outside of Vancouver.

Last year, Victoria and Sidney students won 21 of the 23 awards with Officiating at the ceremony will be the retiring Miss Sidney, Joan Gardner.

Following the coronation there will be the coronation ball with music supplied by the Take Four group from Victoria. This is being planned as a semi-formal dance for young people of the district and there will be a nominal admission charge.

Five days later, on July 1, Miss Willson will preside over the Dominion Day festivities at Sidney which will be opened by a parade through the village.
